

Aitor Goti, University of Deusto

Dr. Aitor Goti is Director of the Deusto Digital Industry Chair, and is working since 2015 at the University of Deusto. Previously, he worked 4 years and half in an industrial company included at the Spanish trading market, and almost 10 years old at the University of Mondragon. Aitor has published over 100 articles, being 35 of them in journals with impact in the Journal Citation Reports. As a consequence of his activity, Aitor has made about 40 transfer projects financed by companies, resulting in the training and formation of 50 intern or hired personnel (20 EJs approximately), publishing the results of their research in various media. As well, Aitor has obtained dozens of projects co-financed with public funds, from among those stand out 9 European or transnational projects (3 Manunet, 4 Erasmus+ and 1 H2020 and one with Siemens and the University of Aalborg). In 8 out of these 9 cases Aitor has been the main researcher of the entity he represented (not of the full project, but of the university he represented at the consortium), and in 3 of them he has been the project coordinator. He is as well evaluator of National and Trans-national projects.
