

Martin Kunkel, Fachvereinigung Kaltwalzwerke e.V. (FVK)

Attorney Martin Kunkel is the managing director of the Fachvereinigung Kaltwalzwerke e.V. (FVK) and as such he represents the interests of the predominantly medium-sized cold rolling companies. He positions this industrial sector in relation to politics and global competition.

In addition, Mr. Kunkel is managing director of the Comité International d'Étude du Laminage à Froid du Feuillard d'Acier (CIELFFA), the European association of cold rolled strip producers, and represents the interests of its members in Europe and on the world market.

As managing director of the European Cold Rolled Section Association (ECRA), Mr. Kunkel advocates the interests of cold rolled section producers, supports the industrial and medium-sized business policy work of WSM, BDI and Orgalim and coordinates community research projects with university institutions.

Moreover, Mr. Kunkel is chairman of the branch organisation STAHL of the REFA Bundesverband eV.. The aim of this organisation is to provide well-trained employees to companies in the steel industry and steel-related processing industries through regular courses that always contain the latest findings from research, teaching and practice. The motto of the REFA industry organisation is: "Success through good employees! They are the most important resource in the company".
